Labor Day.

The first Labor Day in the United States was celebrated on September 5, 1882 in New York City. <sup>[1]</sup> In the aftermath of the deaths of a number of workers at the hands of the US military and US Marshals during the 1894 Pullman Strike, President Grover Cleveland put reconciliation with Labor as a top political priority. Fearing further conflict, legislation making Labor Day a national holiday was rushed through Congress unanimously and signed into law a mere six days after the end of the strike. <sup>[2]</sup> Cleveland was also concerned that aligning a US labor holiday with existing international May Day celebrations would stir up negative emotions linked to the Haymarket Affair. <sup>[3]</sup> All 50 U.S. states have made Labor Day a state holiday. The form for the celebration of Labor Day was outlined in the first proposal of the holiday: A street parade to exhibit to the public "the strength and esprit corps of the trade and labor organizations," followed by a festival for the workers and their families. This became the pattern for Labor Day celebrations. Speeches by prominent men and women were introduced later, as more emphasis was placed upon the economic and civil significance of the holiday. Still later, by a resolution of the American Federation of Labor convention of 1909, the Sunday preceding Labor Day was adopted as Labor Sunday and dedicated to the spiritual and educational aspects of the labor movement. Traditionally, Labor Day is celebrated by most Americans as the symbolic end of the summer. The holiday is often regarded as a day of rest and parades. Speeches or political demonstrations are more low-key than May 1 Labor Day celebrations in most countries, although events held by labor organizations often feature political themes and appearances by candidates for office, especially in election years. Forms of celebration include picnics, barbecues, fireworks displays, water sports, and public art events. Families with school-age children take it as the last chance to travel before the end of summer recess. Similarly, some teenagers and young adults view it as the last weekend for parties before returning to school. However, start dates for schools vary widely, beginning as early as July 24 in urban districts such as Atlanta, Miami, and Los Angeles.

First Day of Autumn

In the United States and the rest of the northern hemisphere, the first day of the autumn season is the day of the year when the Sun crosses the celestial equator moving southward (on September 22nd or 23rd). This day is known as the Autumnal Equinox. A common misconception is that the earth is further from the sun in winter than in summer. Actually, the Earth is closest to the sun in December which is winter in the Northern hemisphere. As the Earth travels around the Sun in its orbit, the north-south position of the Sun changes over the course of the year because of the changing orientation of the Earth's tilted rotation axes. The dates of maximum tilt of the Earth's equator correspond to the Summer Solstice and Winter Solstice, and the dates of zero tilt to the Vernal Equinox and Autumnal Equinox. The reason for these changes has to do with the Earth's yearly trip around the sun. For part of the year the Earth's North Pole points away from the sun and part of the time toward it. This is what causes our seasons. When the North Pole points toward the sun, the sun's rays hit the northern half of the world more directly. That means it is warmer and we have summer. The declination of the Sun on the autumnal equinox is 0° 00'. On the day of the autumnal equinox, day and night are nearly the same amounts of time. In the United States, there are about 12 hours of daylight on this day.

Be a good Neighbor.

Don't leave unsightly garbage bags or garbage cans outside your doorway or in the bushes. They turn off your neighbors and turn on the bugs and rats. Please take all your garbage straight to the dumpsters, not beside it and please close the doors as the people that live near the dumpsters won't have to smell old garbage. Cardboard boxes should be broken down before you put them in the dumpsters.

Apple Coffee Cake

BATTER:

2 cups Bisquick® baking mix / 2
 tablespoons sugar
 1 egg / 2/3 cup water or milk / 1 cup
 finely chopped apple

TOPPING:

¼ cup sugar / 2 tablespoons Bisquick®
 baking mix
 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine ~ firm

(This is the regular recipe;
 I actually make 1½ times this amount of topping.)

Heat oven to 400°. Grease round layer pan, 9 x 1-1/2 inches, or square pan, 8 x 8 x 2 inches.
 Mix all topping ingredients until crumbly, and then drop onto cake batter. Mix first four batter ingredients and beat vigorously for 30 seconds. Then mix in apple. Spread batter in pan; sprinkle with topping. Bake until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean, 20 - 25 minutes.
 Refrigerate any remaining coffee cake.
